PARKHURST A SPECTATOR.

He Looks On at the Police Investigating Committee's Session.

OTTO KEMPNER A WITNESS.

He Tells How His Lithographs Were Taken from Store Windows.

ORDERED OUT BY DETECTIVES.

Gen. C. H. T. Collis Narrates His Experience at the Polls on Election Day.

The Senators from Albany, who are down here to investigate the doings of the Police Department, with special reference to their alleged interference with the rights of citizens at the polling-places during election times, resumed their hearing this morning in Part III. of the Court of Common Pleas. Although it has not been definitely announced that Dr. Parkhurst and Mr. Goff are out of the investigation, it is tolerably certain that they will have nothing to do with the work of the Committee or the furnishing of evidence until the political end of the inquiry is exhausted. This is in charge of John E. Milholland, Mr. Platt's lieutenant, who is just now actively engaged in the business of drumming up witnesses for the Commission. Yesterday his supply gave out before the day was over, but this was due to a misunderstanding on the part of the Marshal.

This morning Mr. Milholland was on hand bright and early with a string of dozen or more witnesses in tow and others expected. They were taken into a side room to wait until the Committee should be ready for them. According to those who know the plans of the Committee, there will be plenty of witnesses to fill out the long and protracted sessions of which Mr. Sutherland spoke in his opening address to the Committee and the public yesterday.

A large crowd had gathered in the corridor on the upper floor of the Court House long before 10.30, the hour set for the opening this morning, and as soon as the doors were opened all the available seats were taken.

There were no politicians of prominence in the early crowd, but several big men dropped in just before the arrival of the Committee. One of these was Dr. Parkhurst, who came in and took a seat at the table reserved for counsel.

"I am only here as a spectator," he said to an "Evening World" reporter, "and do not intend to take any part in the proceedings. No, I have nothing to say at present as to my plans with reference to the Committee, may furnish to the Committee in future."

Gen. C. H. T. Collis, who was expected to testify yesterday, and who will be one of the witnesses to-day, was also among the early comers. He sat over in the corner and chatted with John Sabine Smith, who was also on hand to give his assistance to the Committee.

Otto Kempner, the ex-Tammany man, who was defeated for Assembly in the Seventh District last November, on the Independent ticket, came in and, eyeing Dr. Parkhurst, went over and sat down beside him and they engaged in earnest conversation. He expected to be one of the witnesses examined to-day.

Among others recognized were Otto Irving Wise, the defeated Republican candidate for Assembly in the Twenty-first District; Henry Grove, member of the Republican State Committee and Frank Raymond's right-hand man in the Twenty-seventh District; and Lawyer Frank Moss, of the Society for the Prevention of Crime.

There was a long wait for the Committee. The first one to arrive was Senator Daniel Bradley, of Kings County, the great objector, who resembles a Methodist clergyman in appearance. He shook hands cordially with Dr. Parkhurst.

The other members of the Committee immediately called them together and told Counselor Sutherland that they were to proceed to the examination of the Chairman, Senators O'Connor, Robertson and Bradley were present.

The first witness called was Otto Kempner. He said he lived at 22 Second avenue, in the Seventh District, which he had formerly represented in the Assembly.

In the last election, he said, the Republican candidate received 1,500 votes, the result of the candidate 4,000, and he himself 2,775.

TO PUT SALARIES UP.

General Demand by City Officials for Increased Pay.

Policemen and Firemen Join in the Movement.

Large Number of These Bills Now Before the Legislature.

There is a general demand for increases in salaries by city officers and employees.

More than the usual number of bills providing for a "raise" in the pay of the hard-worked politicians have been introduced in the Legislature. The Tax Department heads the list, and the bill relating to this Department is likely to go through because it has the approval of the Mayor, Comptroller and Corporation Counsel Clark, who drafted it.

The bill, which provided for an increase in the salaries of the President from $5,000 to $8,000 and of the Commissioners from $4,000 to $5,000, has been amended to give the Commissioners $7,000 and the Deputy Commissioners of whom there are about a dozen, $2,500 each. At present only one deputy gets $1,500, another $1,000, a third $1,000 and all the rest $2,000 each. The President of the Tax Department also performs the duties of Secretary to the Board of Estimate and the Army Board.

The police want more money, too. They ask that salaries be graded, so that after four years' service a policeman will be paid $1,400 instead of $1,200. The firemen ask for a similar advance.

A bill is pending to increase the pay of park laborers to $2 a day, and of hostlers and drivers in the Street-Cleaning Department from $600 to $750 a year.

Supt. Brady, of the Building Department, as already stated in this paper, thinks his valuable services are worth $2,500 more a year, and asks to have his salary fixed at $7,500.

One member of the Legislature thinks Comptroller Fitch is getting too much for his services, and has introduced a bill reducing his fees from 1 to 2 per cent. on the first $50,000, from 2 to 1 per cent. on the second $50,000, and from 1 to 1-2 per cent. on all other sums.

AN ANARCHIST BOMB.

Unearthed by Young Hoffman, with Probably Fatal Results.

Dug Up with Others in the Williamsburg Sand Lots.

Boy Like, He Hanged It Against a Huge Boulder.

Nicholas Hoffman, thirteen years old, of 2331 Troutman street, Williamsburg, is hovering between life and death at his home to-day because he and a number of other small boys played with dynamite bombs which they found buried in the sand lots of the Twentieth Precinct.

Two other boys who were with Hoffman were hurt, and had it not been for a fortunate circumstance all of them would undoubtedly have been killed.

Police Captain Kitzer has a number of men at work on the case, and they are of the opinion that the unfortunate boys found bombs which had been buried by Anarchists.

The "sand lots" are on Knickerbocker avenue, and in the neighborhood flourish a number of Anarchist societies. About three months ago half a dozen bombs were found in the lots, but although several detectives were at work on the case for days, they could not learn who had buried them. At that time the lots were thoroughly searched, and it was said that there were no more bombs there.

The sand lot is used as a playground by the boys of the neighborhood, and this morning about 8 o'clock Young Hoffman, accompanied by Charles and Frank Hoffman, twelve and eleven years old, respectively, who live at 238 Troutman street, went over to the lots to play.

While running about they turned up the sand near a big boulder which stands near the center of the lot, and unearthed an oblong box of tin. The youngsters speculated as to what their find could be, and Hoffman, who was the oldest of the trio, took the box from the others and opened it.

Inside were half a dozen bombs, although the boys had no idea at the time what they were. The Hoffman boy took one of the bombs out of the box and cried:

"I'm going to bang it against that big stone, pointing to the boulder."

As he spoke, the other boys turned and ran. Hoffman, however, who was the boldest, stood where he was, and when Hoffman threw the bomb at the boulder, which was about thirty feet away, it exploded.

The explosion and shock that followed was so great that Hoffman was hurled back, although the soft sand broke his fall, and they escaped without any injury.

When they picked themselves up, they saw Hoffman lying on the ground senseless. All the while he had been holding the bomb in his hands, and he was also wounded about the legs and body.

The screams of the boys attracted a crowd, and a big brewer carried the injured boy to his home. Young Hoffman was examined by a doctor, who says that the shock and the injuries he received prove fatal.

There is a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood, and some of the more reckless residents are threatening to lynch the first Anarchist they see.

Miss Bonyne, of California, Weds the Earl of Coventry's Son.

Brilliant Ceremony at All Saints' Church, Eastmore Gardens.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 10.—The marriage of Miss Virginia Bonyne, stepdaughter of Charles William Bonyne, of California, and Viscount Deerpur, eldest son of the Earl of Coventry, took place at 2.30 this afternoon at All Saints' Church, Eastmore Gardens.

Among the officiating clergymen were the Rev. Ravenscroft Stewart, the vicar, and the Rev. Hugh Bennett, vicar of Croome, the estate of Lord Coventry.

The service was fully choral. The church was crowded with a distinguished assembly, which included Princess Christian, of Schleswig-Holstein, many of the American colony and numerous representatives of the English aristocracy.

The bride, who was attended by four bridesmaids and a page, wore a beautiful gown of ivory satin and her toilet included a priceless headdress of old crown lace, the present of Princess Christian.

The bridesmaids were Lady Barbara Coventry, Lady Dorothy Coventry and Lady Alice Coventry, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Angela Maxwell. Their costumes were of white silk, trimmed with sky-blue and hats in suit.

The Hon. Thomas Coventry, youngest brother of the bridegroom, was picturesquely attired as a page.

A brilliant reception was held after the ceremony at Mrs. Bonyne's house, and the fine rooms were filled with a distinguished assembly, all of whom heartily congratulated the young couple.

Later in the afternoon Viscount and Viscountess Deerpur left for Cologne, in Essex (kindly lent by Lady Elizabeth Taylor), where the first part of the honeymoon will be spent. The happy couple will afterwards stay for some time with the Earl and Countess of Coventry at Croome.

When in town the Viscount and his wife will stay either at Mr. Bonyne's or at Lord Coventry's. Their residence, which has not yet been decided upon, will be in the country.

The presents, many of which were costly, numbered considerably over a hundred. They include the Brussels lace wedding veil worn by the bride, which was presented by Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein; a work-box from Lady M. Ponsonby; a pearl necklace and a pearl and diamond bracelet from Lord and Lady Coventry; a silver inkstand from Lord and Lady Ashburton; a silver cigarette box from the Earl and Countess of Craven; a silver box from Sir Francis Perceval; an old Spanish ornament from Admiral Sir W. W. Hornby; a silver pen and pencil from Sir Francis Montefiore; a silver silver dish from Lord and Lady Burton; an open-work silver dish from the Baroness Eglington; a fur rug, travelling bag, sash and pink enamel bracelet from Mrs. Bonyne; a pair of gold bronze candlesticks from Mrs. Cavendish Bentinck; a silver and glass bell from the Countess of Cottenham; a silver bread basket from Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin; three spoons from Mrs. Justin McCarthy; a silver cream jar and sugar basin from the Rev. A. and Mrs. Bonyne; salad and asparagus fork and spoons from Mrs. Bonyne; and a silver tea service from the Gloucestershire tenants.

THIS MAY BE A SUICIDE.

A Stranger Disappears from the French Line Pier.

Entered a Closet on the Dock and Never Came Out.

Another case of mysterious disappearance is bothering Supt. West, of the French line pier, foot of Morton street.

About 4 o'clock this morning Watchman George Brew noticed a fairly well dressed man walk down the pier and enter a closet near the end of the dock.

The man wore dark clothes and a soft felt hat. He walked with a slight limp. Watchman Brew kept a sharp lookout for the man, because there were some valuable goods on the dock, which he was responsible for.

About two minutes after the man entered the closet a freight-handler went in also.

When the latter came out Brew asked him whether there was any one else inside. The man said that there was no one there when he went in.

Brew made an examination of the place and found it empty.

There was an opening in the closet, through which a man could easily have jumped. Watchman Brew reported the matter to Supt. West, who made careful inquiry, but could find no one who had heard a splash or who had seen the man after he entered the closet.

Mr. West thinks the man jumped through the opening in the closet, which was carried away by the strong ebb tide which was running at that time.

He is a stout man, about 35 years of age, either a passenger or the friend of a passenger on board the steamer La Gasconne, which sailed from the pier close morning.

This is the third mysterious disappearance from the French line pier, which has occurred during the last few months.

DEFICIENCY NOT SO BIG.

It May Fall $9,000,000 Below Secretary Carlisle's Estimate.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—There are good reasons for the belief that the deficiency in the revenues of the Government for the present fiscal year will fall considerably below Carlisle's estimates.

In his statement before the House Judiciary Committee, on Jan. 25 last, the Secretary expressed the opinion that the deficit for the year would be $75,000,000 or $79,000,000, but the conditions have changed since then, and it is now the opinion of experts, who base their estimates upon the best data obtainable, that the deficit for the year will be not to exceed $50,000,000.

This conclusion is arrived at independent of any increase in the receipts from internal revenue incident to a probable increase in the duties in the liquor, tobacco and other schedules of the pending tariff bill.

A material decrease is anticipated in the amount of pension payments, and it is estimated that the aggregate for the year will exceed $100,000,000. During the first eight months of the present fiscal year the aggregate of the accounts of pensions amounted to only $37,738,550, as against $106,565,545 during the same period of last year.

M'KANE SHORT $200,000?

Half a Million Dollars' Worth of Town Bonds Unaccounted For.

HYPOTHECATED IN BROOKLYN.

Rumor that the Chief Held on to $90,000 Recently Transferred to Him.

NOW SAID TO BE A BANKRUPT.

Money Raised on Bonds Said to Be Used to Keep the Gravesend Boss Out of Sing Sing.

Lawyer George F. Elliott and the Citizens' Committee of Gravesend, who have been investigating the accounts of John Y. McKane, have discovered that the Chief failed to account on Jan. 1 last regarding the disposition of $500,000 of town bonds, as required by law. It is known that he had these bonds in his possession.

Now it is rumored that a large portion of the bonds, if not all, have been hypothecated with Brooklyn financial institutions, and that there is an apparent shortage in McKane's accounts of $300,000.

McKane's friends say the apparent shortage in the ex-Chief's accounts is due purely to his lack of business methods in conducting the affairs of the town.

The Committee will not make known the true state of affairs of the town until a report has been prepared and submitted to the taxpayers.

The few bonds which have been found in an awful muddle, McKane mistaking town and personal affairs in such a manner as to greatly embarrass the investigators.

The facts were only learned by the investigating Committee yesterday. The $500,000 worth of bonds which McKane is said to have hypothecated, had not yet been located by the Committee. It is believed, however, that they were deposited with the Germania and Dime Savings Banks of Brooklyn.

An "Evening World" reporter called at both institutions, but was refused any information upon the subject. The officers at each bank admitted that they had money invested in Gravesend bonds, but refused to state whether the bonds had been purchased or whether they had loaned money on them.

Frank B. Beers, broker of 200 Montague street, said that he had not yet been located by the Committee. He said he understood the bonds had been offered for sale, but no purchasers could be found.

Lawyer Elliott was asked this morning for a statement regarding the case. "I can say nothing," replied Mr. Elliott, "because the investigation is being carried on with the utmost secrecy. If I should say anything now it might defeat the object of my clients, who are working night and day to get at the bottom fact in the case."

It is said now that John Y. McKane is a bankrupt, and that this money raised on the bonds was used to defray the expenses of his recent trial. McKane has transferred a great deal of his property in anticipation of an investigation.

The Committee has also discovered that Town Treasurer Morris recently transferred to McKane $30,000 of the town's funds, which was to be used for the completion of a new station-house at Coney Island. The men who have done work on the new building, stopped work because McKane did not pay them, and as near as the Committee can find out, none of the money transferred has been paid out by McKane.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The present understanding at the Supreme Court is that Associate Justice White, of Louisiana, will be sworn in next Monday.

The Court officials have not been advised of Mr. White's desires in the matter, but base their belief on the fact that his resignation as a Senator from Louisiana will take effect on Monday.
